Internet Access Assistance

Families who have no Internet access at home may qualify for low or no cost Internet access through programs provided by HCS working in partnership with T-Mobile, Cox Communications and the federal eRate program. In order to qualify, the family must not currently have Internet access at home through any other means, have at least one student enrolled in the free/reduced lunch program or be on some form of public assistance.

If you are interested in getting this assistance, please provide the information below to confirm your agreement, and sign and return this form to any Hampton City Schools school.
